Hello Ellen.

Would you like to address the fundamental issue which prevent all reforms, yours, and others, outlined in this letter:

<http://print-humanbeingsfirst.blogspot.com/2009/09/response-ami-monetary-reform-conf.html>

That letter has been an ongoing concise repository of most references to my work all of which address that one single core issue. I have decided to no longer read any more work on monetary reform because they are all largely immanent, have no bearing in ground realities, and their authors refuse to acknowledge those very realities in their very fine proposals. The monetary reform agenda is an outright waste of everyone's time, and DOA. Unfortunate. Very unfortunate.

Thanks.
Best Wishes,
Zahir.
